Q. Did source hear or know of any German engineers, technicians, scientists, etc. at any of the PW camps or installations at which he worked while a PW in the USSR?

A. By the time I was sent to the USSR as a prisoner the war had already ended and all of the very highly technically qualified prisoners had been removed from the ordinary POW camps. Also, men with such qualifications usually were commissioned officers and in most areas were separated from us enlisted men until about 1946 when all were combined.
